

EAST END.
What "M" Sees and Hears on His Rounds About the City and Along Route No. 3.
Mr. George White, Jr., will join hand and heart this evening at Hymeneus Altar in the Methodist Episcopal Church of this city with Miss Nellie Wilson, one of Abbeville's most charming and popular young ladies.
A large number of friends are invited to witness the ceremony. Immediately after an elegant reception will be given at the beautiful home of Mrs. John Andrew Harris, aunt of the bride.
Our theatre goers people enjoyed the first play in our beautiful opera house last Saturday night, "The Great Divide." This troupe has a world wide reputation and their play in this city bears out this fact. Their performance was most entertaining and greatly enjoyed by the public.
Manager Cobb deserves credit for the high class troupe he is introducing. Good shows will always be appreciated and patronized by the public.
The next great play will be "The Cavanaugh" and is booked for the evening of Oct. 15, 1908.
What is to be done? With two to three thirds of a cotton crop and the price way down, bringing last Monday's 3-4 cents, if such conditions do not change before it gets out of the farmers' hands, the country as a whole will be in bad shape, farmers, merchants and all industries will suffer. Even now trade centres are feeling the depression in trade. Every article being sold has to be sold at a great discount while their chief product is at its lowest figure. Farmers are being forced to realize in "unity there's strength," they must "pull together" or calamity will be the result.
Miss Eula Cobb, of Greenwood, spent Saturday and Sunday in the city the guest of her brother, Mr. Oscar Cobb, and was much pleased with the opera.
Mrs. James Taggart has moved into her new home (the Graydon home) which she recently purchased. She has rented her home on Main street to Mr. Minehall and her new cottage on Magazine street is occupied by Mr. Calhoun and family.
Mrs. Tilton and her charming daughter, Miss Sara, after a delightful stay of several months in the city with her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Lawton, left last week for their home in Savannah, Ga. These ladies made many friends and received much attention during their stay and left for their home charmed with our city and in love with her people, and our people delighted to have such honored guests within their city gates and will greet their coming again with much pleasure.
Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Shiver returned from their bridal tour and are now at home to their friends at the Eureka.
Mrs. Luther Hickeney after a pleasant stay in the city as the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joe Wilson, returned last Monday to her home in Augusta accompanied as far as Greenwood by Mrs. Wilson.
Mrs. Folienberger and two children, of Monroe, N. C., were the guests of Mrs. Sam Turner several days of last week.
Mrs. R. L. Vose spent the past week with her daughter Mrs. Robert H. H. H.
Watch and read the advertisements in our city newspapers and you will see who are live and progressive. Merchants of the city and will soon find out where to get the most for your money. Watch the show windows as you pass along and you will see grand bargains displayed.
Mrs. J. H. Gilbert, of Hodges, is in the city to attend the marriage of her niece, Miss Nellie Wilson.

NEWS ON ROUTE 3.
Wilson Brothers ginners is running on full time as well as the ginners of Gilliam Brothers. Both of these gins are now having all they can do. By the by—We heard today that some of the ginners in this county have been posted by the Night Riders which means they must gin no more cotton until the price advances and take the consequence which means destruction of their property. This seems to us in bad shape and it must evidently be those who are interested in cotton, which means the farming class, and to now it seems to us that if any other class of men have any right to restrict the private work of gins as ginning their cotton only puts it in the hands of the ginners and necessarily forces them to sell. It would be more proper to let the ginners of the county to post on the farmers' doors a notice something like this, you must not sell your cotton, if you do it will be at your own risk. No cotton to be sold by farmers until prices advance.
If the Farmers Union would stand pat on their pledges "not to sell until their price was given then the object in view would be gained. You are not obliged to sell because your cotton is ginned and packed, for the same law that would make or require you to sell your ginned cotton, could force you to sell it in the seed and of course for much less. Gin your cotton, store it in the farmers' warehouse, draw money on it and pay on your debt, and hold for a while and you are bound to get if you stand together, otherwise "capital" and not labor will win the day. As we said formerly, you have the same right to price your staple product (cotton) to the world, as western men have to price their corn, meat, and flour, so hold to your rights, as free speech and doing as we please make this a free country.
Sharon school opened last Monday with Prof. R. B. Cheatham as principal and Miss Carrie Bonner, of Due West, as assistant.
Mrs. Ada C. Kennedy and her daughter, the Lebanon section this week and open this district school next Monday the 19th.
Miss Mattie Nickles, of Hodges, is in charge of the Flatwood school having opened last Monday the 19th.
Fern Cliff School opened earlier this season with Miss Eunice Cochran in charge.
No colored schools have opened yet. Schools are busy now and will have time for schools later on.
Mr. J. R. Thornton, one of the progressive farmers of Lebanon, had his barn destroyed by fire last Wednesday p. m. about 5 o'clock with all this year's crop, 150 bushels cotton seed, 30 or 40 bales of last year's hay, gear and plows, 2 fine calves and a new two horse wagon. Only one hundred dollars insurance, which would not cover the loss, and the building of the barn. This is a great misfortune and places Mr. Thornton in a bad fix just at this time. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to be accidental, perhaps caused from some green forage in the left which may have heated and caused "spontaneous combustion." This is indeed hard luck, and his many friends regret his loss.
On last Monday afternoon about one o'clock the dwelling known as the J. W. Knox home, located in the Sharon section, was totally destroyed by fire. This property now belongs to Mr. J. B. Wilson and was occupied by Mr. Shubert and family. Mr. Wilson had just made a lot of repairs on the dwelling and had it already rented for next year. At this writing we have no information as to the origin of the fire. We only saw it go up in smoke at a distance.
Mr. R. W. Knox, one of the prosperous farmers and merchants in the Sharon section, has just built a large waterproof shed under which he has now stored 25 or 30 bales of last and this year's cotton, besides having a lot of old cotton in the Abbeville warehouse.
There is in view along route 3 upwards of 200 bales of cotton lying around holding for higher prices. Store your cotton, don't take any risk, you will sleep better and come out better in the end.
Some of the visitors we met coming to town the past week: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilson, Mr. J. E. Friesley and Miss Louie Wilson, Mr. J. H. Fenney and daughter Miss Gertrude, Miss Nellie Woodruff and Miss Beanie McNeill, Mrs. R. E. Jones, Messrs. J. H. Walker, Olyn Walker and W. O. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Link, Mr. R. W. Knox, Mr. C. F. Graves, Mr. James Evans, Mr. Grier Sherrard, Major Arthur Parker, Mr. Walter B. Wilson, Mr. Walter Ables.
Numbers of people on route 3 will take in the Cavanaugh.
Miss Nellie McGraw is in the city for this week.
Miss Carrie Bonner is boarding with Mrs. David Gilliam.
Miss Eunice Cochran is boarding with Mrs. C. F. Graves.
Miss Mattie Nickles boards with her friend Mrs. John A. Wilson.
Mr. David Gilliam spent last Saturday night and Sunday at home, returning to his business at Watkin Monday.
Mr. A. K. Woodhurst was in the city last Monday on business.
Miss Annie Williams who is still sick is feeling a little better at this writing.
What about that marriage on route 3 booked for October? We haven't heard the chime of wedding bells yet.
Miss Janie Mabry is spending a while in the city.
Rev. J. B. Hillhouse is in Atlanta on pleasure and business.
Miss Margie Brownlee spent last Sunday with Mrs. M. T. Sherard.
Miss Nellie Wilson has returned from a delightful visit to her brother Dr. J. D. Wilson and family of Lowndesville.
Little Misses Margaret Wilson and Mildred Wilson of Watkin spent the week with relatives at Grainridge farm. These are two bright, sweet little girls and "we" are always glad to see their pretty, smiling faces on route 3.
Mr. J. F. Gibert with two of his children spent Saturday and Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Maggie Sherard.

Chattanooga Reversible Disc Plow
They Plow "a Comin' and a Goin'"
A combination of mechanical features makes the Chattanooga Reversible Disc Plow the most practical and valuable of all disc plows for the average farmer. They work on both hillside and level land, and are too well and favorably known to need extended description. They leave no "water furrows" in plowing terraces, hillside or level land, when doing reversed plowing. Or, they may be used in plowing around land.
They handle more cubic inches of soil with less draft than mold-board plows.
They completely turn under stalks, trash and weeds.
They break up "hard-pan" and pulverize the soil.
They leave the ground at bottom of furrow porous and natural.
They prepare the soil to withstand either a wet or dry season.
They insure better crops than any other method of plowing.
